

D R Consultants & Designers, Inc.

Job Description: Senior Civil Highway/Roadway Engineer

D R Consultants & Designers, Inc. (DRC) is seeking a highly qualified Project Engineer/Senior Project Engineer for our Los Angeles office. DRC is a multi-disciplined engineering firm in business for 33 years. DRC specializes in Transportation Engineering primary for clients such as, but not limited to, the Port of Los Angeles, LA METRO, City and County of Los Angeles. DRC offers excellent benefits, medical, dental, 401k, three (3) weeks paid time off and eight (8) paid holidays.

Responsibilities:

- Highway/transportation design (including horizontal and vertical alignments, cross sections, alternative analysis/design, quantity calculations) and plans production.
- Perform design calculations
- Prepare summary reports
- Organize scheduling of specific tasks and assignments
- Coordination with other disciplines
- Provide Design, Design leadership and/or QA/QC for highway plans and report deliverables. Must have a background in roadway, highway design (CALTRANS) including but not limited to highway geometrics, roadway modeling and cross section development, grading and drainage, erosion and sediment control, storm water management, traffic control, signing and pavement marking, utility coordination, right of way development, and preparation of plans, specifications and estimate packages.
- Coordination with internal Project Managers, other disciplines, and clients
- Assisting with business development and project proposal efforts

Qualifications Required:

- Bachelors of Science Degree in Civil Engineering
- Minimum of 15 years of highway engineering experience
- California Professional Engineer (PE) License
- Experience with CALTRANS District 7 and Los Angeles County a plus
- AutoCAD 3D, MicroStation, Geopak experience

Education/Degree Required: Bachelor's degree in Civil Engineering required

DRC is an Equal Opportunity Employer of Minorities, Females, Protected Veterans and Individuals with Disabilities.

Job Location: Los Angeles - Full Time